

Terms and Conditions

1. As an international organization headquartered in the United States, Association of Old Crows (AOC) observes all U.S. laws designed to prevent the export of sensitive technology and technology implementation, and to protect American and international partner technological accomplishments from potential adversaries. Persons or entities that are in opposition to the interests of the United States and countries of concern for technology transfers are not eligible to attend AOC events. AOC reserves the right to review, approve, deny, or revoke any registration at its sole discretion to ensure compliance with applicable laws and event security requirements.
For security purposes, all registrants must present valid government-issued photo identification at badge pickup.
2. All content presented during the Symposium is owned by AOC or the individual speakers and presenters authorized to participate. Delegates (including attendees, exhibitors, sponsors, speakers, media, etc.) are strictly prohibited from recording any content presented during the Symposium by any means, including audio, video, photographic, screen capture, digital recording, or artificial intelligence-enabled notetaking or transcription tools. By registering for the Symposium, you acknowledge and agree to this prohibition. Any delegate who violates this policy may be removed from the session or event, have their credentials revoked for the remainder of the event, and will not be entitled to a refund.
3. By registering for and/or attending the Symposium, delegates understand and agree that they may be photographed, filmed, or videotaped. Delegates grant AOC and those acting with its permission the perpetual right to use their name, voice, photograph, portrait, and biographical information ("likeness") without compensation, for broadcast or exhibition in any media now known or hereafter devised, for any lawful purpose.
4. AOC does not sell or publicly distribute attendee contact information. By allowing your badge to be scanned by an exhibitor or sponsor, you consent to the sharing of your registration contact information with that exhibitor or sponsor for follow-up communication. Badges may also be scanned at the main entrance for attendance tracking, analytics, and security purposes, and at session rooms or theaters for capacity monitoring and reporting. Badge scans conducted by AOC for operational, analytical, or safety purposes do not transfer your contact information to third parties.
5. Attendance at a public event involves inherent risks, including but not limited to the risk of illness, injury, or property damage. By attending the Symposium, delegates voluntarily assume all risks associated with participation. To the full extent permitted by law, AOC and its affiliates, including partners, sponsors, directors, officers, board members, employees, agents, contractors, volunteers, and hosted venues, shall not be held liable for any illness, injury, loss, or damage arising from participation in the event. Delegates are responsible for their own health, safety, and personal property while attending the event.
6. All registration fees are due at the time of registration. If a delegate elects to pay by check, payment must be received within 15 days of registration. If payment is not received within this timeframe, AOC reserves the right to re-register the delegate at the current rate and invoice the difference. Delegates paying via check must ensure payment is received by or before Friday, November 13, 2026, or make special arrangements with the AOC registrar to bring payment onsite. No credentials will be distributed without full payment. A 3% processing fee applies to all credit card transactions.
7. All Symposium Registration cancellation requests must be made in writing and sent to events@crows.org. Refund requests received on or before November 13, 2026, will be refunded minus a $100 administrative fee. No refund requests will be honored after the published deadline or for no-shows. Canceling your registration does NOT cancel your hotel reservation. Hotel cancellations must be handled directly with the hotel.

Terms and Conditions

8. Registration substitutions are permitted, and requests must be emailed to events@crowds.org. Absolutely no substitutions will be accepted via telephone.
9. Each registered delegate will be issued an official badge during onsite registration. Admission to all sessions and event functions requires a valid badge. Badges may not be shared, exchanged, or transferred. Violators' badges will be confiscated. Lost badges may be reissued upon presentation of valid identification.
10. Delegates must be 18 years of age to attend the Symposium or visit the Exhibit Hall.
11. All delegates are expected to conduct themselves professionally and respectfully. Harassment, discrimination, disruptive behavior, or violation of event policies may result in removal from the event without refund. AOC reserves the right to deny admission or remove any individual whose behavior is deemed inappropriate, unsafe, or inconsistent with the professional standards of the Symposium.
12. Event programs, speakers, session titles, and schedules are subject to change without notice. AOC reserves the right to make modifications as necessary. Such changes do not constitute grounds for refund.
13. The delegate agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless AOC and its affiliates, including partners, sponsors, directors, officers, board members, employees, agents, contractors, volunteers, and hosted venues, from and against any and all claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs, and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) arising out of or related to the delegate's participation in the Symposium, the delegate's acts or omissions, or the delegate's violation of these Terms.
14. If a Force Majeure Event prevents a party (the "Nonperforming Party") from performing one or more of its obligations under this agreement, the Nonperforming Party shall be excused from performance for the duration of the Force Majeure Event, provided that it promptly notifies the other party of the occurrence of the Force Majeure Event, its anticipated impact on performance, and the expected duration, and uses reasonable efforts to mitigate any resulting damages. For purposes of this agreement, a "Force Majeure Event" means any event or circumstance beyond a party's reasonable control, including but not limited to: acts of God; war; riots; civil insurrections; hurricanes; floods; fires; explosions; earthquakes; chemical contamination; epidemics or pandemics; acts or threats of terrorism; trade restrictions; or acts of any government authority occurring after the date of this agreement, whether foreseeable or not, that prevent performance of obligations under this agreement. A Force Majeure Event shall not include financial hardship, increased costs, or changes in law.
